Gentle jaundice detection, for our most precious patients
The MBJ20 Transcutaneous Jaundice Detector is fast, accurate and simple to use. And because it's designed for newborn babies, it's non-invasive and gentle.

“Jaundice, left untreated, can be very harmful to infants. With this remarkable innovation, we can provide reliable screening without the need for painful blood tests.”

A sensitive instrument with a sensitive touch.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>ITEM NAME</th>
<th>ITEM #</th>
<th>QTY</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>MBJ20 Transcutaneous Jaundice Detector</td>
<td>MBJ20</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Why the MBJ20?

The MBJ20 Transcutaneous Jaundice Detector is an accurate diagnostic tool that’s remarkably easy to use.

It works by measuring the transcutaneous concentration of bilirubin correlative with serum bilirubin concentration. The handheld device is placed on the neonatal skin to take the reading – and it’s as simple as that.

The results are instant, and they can be stored and tracked.

In summary, it’s:

+ Accurate
+ Quick
+ Reliable
+ Pain-free

Here are some of the technical details:

- Its technology is made up of advanced electronics and optics, fibre optics, spectrum splitter, controlled spectrum filter, NFM switching and information processing techniques
- Results are clearly observed on its LCD display
- Ergonomic design makes it comfortable to hold
- Long service, life, low energy consumption and a reliable battery indicator
- Instant test result reading
- Functions include: storage and memory, browse and delete, self-calibration, mean value computation
JB Medical Supplies is the only Australian company specialising in perinatal care products.

Our original product was the Kiwi OmniCup, the world’s first vacuum delivery system. Today we continue to do whatever it takes to help perinatal care professionals make each delivery as safe as possible for mothers and their babies.

Everything we do, and every product we bring to market, puts mothers and their babies first – their safety, their wellbeing, and their feelings.

It’s our passion, not just our profession.

JB Medical Supplies – Specialists in Perinatal Care

To place an order or to make an enquiry please contact:

JB Medical Supplies
enquiries@jbmedicalsupplies.com.au
Phone: (07) 3862 2000
www.jbmedicalsupplies.com.au